

There are 1913 people registered with the practice.	Pregnant women, over 64's and under 6's are considered to be the "at risk" groups	Adults and children aged 6 and over require 2 boxes of antiviral medicine.	56% of the over 64 age group had a flu vaccination at the start of the winter.	An estimated 30% of the "low risk" age group will exhibit symptoms of flu.
An estimated 1% of people registered will be pregnant women.	17% of people registered are over 64.	At risk groups are tested for flu as soon as they exhibit any symptoms.	People in the "low risk" group can choose to be tested and receive anti-viral medicine if they wish.	An estimated 55% of under 6s will exhibit symptoms of flu.
Children under 6 require 1 box of antiviral medicine.	An estimated 85% of the "low risk" group that have symptoms of flu will choose not to be tested.	8% of people registered are under 6.	An estimated 30% of pregnant women will exhibit symptoms of flu.	People who have received the flu vaccine will not display any symptoms and will have virtually no chance of contracting this strain of flu.
An estimated 45% of unvaccinated over 64s will exhibit symptoms of flu.	Flu medicine can be ordered in sets of 10 boxes.	The estimated probability of a person with the symptoms actually having flu is 0.7.	People who are aged from 6 to 64 and aren't pregnant are considered to be "low risk"	People with no symptoms are not tested for flu.