

The Further Mathematics Support Programme

Preparing for STEP 1

UCL Institute of Education

10 weeks starting 12th January 2017, 5:00pm – 7:00pm

These classes are intended for A2 mathematics students who are required to sit STEP 1 papers for university entrance. They will cover the Pure Mathematics syllabus only and will concentrate on the techniques which are beyond the A-level specification. They will be invaluable for examination preparation and will help students to bridge the gap between school and university mathematics.

The course consists of 10 lessons and classes will take place at UCL.

There are limited places available and priority will be given to students in the state sector.

Course fees and application:

Fees for this course/event are £50 per student.
