

The Further Mathematics Support Programme

New Approaches to Teaching for the New A levels in Mathematics

A half day course focussing on the new Mathematics A levels (from 2017)

Denbigh School, Burchard Crescent, Shenley Church End, Milton
Keynes, MK5 6EX

14:00 to 17. 30, Thursday 18th May 2017 (Lunch from 13:15)

This afternoon course will offer a range of ideas for addressing the Overarching Themes of the new A level specifications.

Sessions will look at making links between Mechanics and Pure, teaching without a text book, and making effective use of the Large Data Set in teaching Statistical content.

Material will be based on content from the Pure, Mechanics and Statistics sections of the new specifications.

If you are not familiar with all the content, we hope you will enjoy learning something new, alongside considering the pedagogical approaches!

Course Leaders:

Kristin Coldwell, FMSP Area Coordinator
Alexandra Hewitt, FMSP Area Coordinator
Carol Jones, FMSP Associate

Course aims:

- To offer suggestions for addressing the Overarching Themes in teaching the new (2017) specifications
