Hatton Teaching School Alliance A-level Maths Network

'Teaching Statistics in the new A level' led by Paul Chillingworth (FMSP Central Coordinator)

At this meeting we will consider

- How technology can be used to gain familiarity with the large datasets and teach statistical concepts
- Practical activities using the large data sets with GeoGebra 5 and spreadsheets
- Using the GeoGebra probability calculator as a tool for teaching statistics
- Using the Casio Classwiz to answer examination questions.

Teachers will need to bring a laptop which has a spreadsheet and GeoGebra 5 installed. If you have a Casio Classwiz please bring it along.

Limited places

This event is open to non-members of the Hatton Teaching Alliance A-level Maths Network but there is a limit of 10 places to non-members. So book early!

An optional light lunch will be served from 1.30 pm. If you wish to avail of this, please inform Lily Hawkins (HawkinsL@hattonacademy.org.uk) by 10th January:

This event is part subsidised by the Further Mathematics Support Programme. For more information about FMSP events in Northamptonshire contact chrislake@furthermaths.org.uk.
